Labor Forces Purchase Bonds

Q. What is labor's attitude toward the Treasury's Defense Savings Program?

A. Strongly cooperative. The A. F. of L., the C. I. O., the Railroad Brotherhoods, and numerous other labor groups all over the country have endorsed the program.

Q. Are labor unions putting funds into Defense Savings Bonds?

A. Yes, in large amounts. Local unions and national labor organizations were among the first to invest in Defense Savings Bonds. Many have bought up to their permitted limit in the Series F and G issues. Many are promoting wage-allotment plans in cooperation with employers.

Note:—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also stamps are now on sale at most retail stores.

King George II of Greece To Britain

Driven by the Germans first from Athens and then from his last foothold for resistance on the island of Crete, the king had been in Capetown, Union of South Africa for several weeks.

Three Die In An Auto Crash After Snatch

Abductor Said To Have Been A Former Convict

ELIZABETH, Ky., Sept. 22.—(AP)—The kidnapping of a Columbus, O., mother who was visiting her soldier son at Fort Knox ended in death for her and her abductor and a young civilian as the result of a head-on automobile collision near here.

State Patrolman G. C. Ray listed the dead as Mrs. Ruth M. Bentz, 46, mother of Pvt. John A. Bentz, Jr., a selectee from Columbus; Earl James Bean, 33, recently of Broken Arrow, Okla., her abductor, and Eugene Myers, 21, of Elizabethtown, a civilian employee of Fort Knox.

The state officer said that Bean, a civilian, drove off early yesterday with Mrs. Bentz, whom he compelled to stay in the car, after forcing Private Bentz and his visiting girl friend, Miss Ruth Bore, 20, also of Columbus, from their automobile at Fort Knox.

Ray said that Bean was a former convict and Oklahoma official said a man of that name had served a term for burglary in the Granite reformatory.

Versions Coincide

Ray classified Bean's action as "kidnapping," but said the motive was not determined. His version of the affair and that of Sgt. William Ballard of the Fort Knox military police were similar.

The patrolman said that Bean was driving on the wrong side of the road when the car crashed head-on into an automobile containing Myers and three other young persons, all of whom were injured seriously.

Bean had been dismissed as an employee at a filling station, near the tourist camp where Mrs. Bentz and Miss Vore were staying. Saturday night for being intoxicated at work, Ray said.

The patrolman said Private Bentz, his mother and Miss Vore drove to Louisville Saturday night and en route picked up Bean, who was hitch hiking.

Bean apparently stayed with the trio in Louisville and returned to Fort Knox with them, the officer added, and when they neared the fort he suddenly drew a knife and under threats of death he ordered young Bentz, who was driving, to stop the car.

He then forced the soldier and Miss Vore from the car and drove off with Mrs. Bentz, whom he commanded to remain.

British and U. S. Mission Reaches Moscow

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The Moscow radio reported tonight that the British and United States delegations for the three-power conference with the Soviet government have arrived in Moscow by plane.

Deal Death To Communists In Parliament

Precede Martial Law Decrees In Bulgaria Cities

BERN, Switzerland, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Advices from Sofia said tonight that an unstated number of Communist deputies in the Bulgarian parliament had been executed and legislators of the former peasant party interned.

When the reported executions occurred was not stated but, apparently, they preceded invocation of martial law decrees over the week-end.

(According to the 1941 statesman's year book, nine of the 160 members of Bulgaria's single-chamber legislature were Communists.)

These reports coincide with warlike preparations in axis-aligned Bulgaria which were interpreted by some neutral observers as part of a German plan to high-pressure non-belligerent Turkey into making concessions which would aid the Nazi cause in the East.

Such a plan would be the logical sequel to the swift German drive into the Ukraine, which has made it imperative that the Nazis take steps to protect their right flank, these sources said.

Dispatches from Ankara indicated that the German eastward push, as well as developments in Bulgaria, were causing keen anxiety among the Turks, and well-informed sources there were quoted as expressing belief that Turkey faced an important showdown.

Belief Germany might be using Bulgaria as a lever against Turkey was intensified by the fact that advices from Sofia failed to give specific reasons for the adoption of measures which virtually put the country under martial law during the week-end.

Some Balkan observers saw the possibility that Germany, if successful in winning such a concession from Turkey, might establish a static front in Russia and transfer her offensive to the south against Iran, now occupied by British and Russian forces.

Kenneth Raab Rotary Speaker

The Sedalia Rotary club held its regular non-dinner meeting today at the Bothwell Hotel with Roy Keller, club president, presiding. Kenneth Raab, of the civics department of the Smith-Cotton high school was the principal speaker on the program.

Mr. Raab, introduced by Joe Benson, chairman of the program, spoke on "International Affairs."

Two flute solos were rendered by Ralph Guenther, new Smith-Cotton high school music director. He was accompanied by Mrs. Guenther.

The program for next Monday will be in charge of Lawrence Barnett, to be held at Longwood, the meeting to be conducted by the Rural Acquaintance Committee.

A car crashed into a bridge injuring Harold Meeks of Kansas City and Paul Jones, Lloyd Ruthford, Helen Wolf and Maxine Wortman, all of the Neosho area.

Clark Predicts A Huge Debt

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Senator Bennett Champ Clark (D-Mo.) predicts a national debt of $150,000,000,000 by the end of the next fiscal year if defense and lease-lend spending continues at the current rate.

Declaring the nation is heading toward bankruptcy, Clark said in an interview "Congress will have to raise $400,000,000 annually forever to pay the interest alone on the national deficit."

Clark, a member of the important Senate Finance Committee, predicted the tax bill passed recently would be superceded by another "within a year."

The senator, home for a few days' rest, said $13,000,000,000 had been appropriated for lease-lend in the last six months and that most people do not realize how much that is.

"If they realized that it means roughly $100 per head for every man, woman and child in the United States, they could see where the country is heading," he added.

Start Work On New Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The ink of President Roosevelt's signature on the record $3,553,400,000 tax bill was still fresh today as legislative leaders started work on another new revenue measure.

The chief executive signed the biggest-in-history tax bill at his Hyde Park home Saturday. His final pen stroke meant much higher taxes on 1941 incomes—both personal and corporate, and it put on the law books, effective October 1, a lot of new or increased excise levies, applying to a legion of things from liquor to light bulbs.

But treasury and congressional experts went to work immediately on a new revenue measure.

Chairman George of the Senate Finance committee said today the new legislation would be of minor proportions compared with the bill just enacted and probably would raise only $200,000,000 to $250,000,000.

Most of that expected revenue, he added, would come from a re-definition of taxes on insurance companies and from some change in the present community property system.

George said that mutual insurance companies now escape many taxes levied on stock companies.

After a fight by Senator Connally (D-Tex.), a member of the finance committee, the Senate refused to incorporate a provision which would have prevented husbands and wives in the eight community property states from dividing income in filing their returns.

Such division usually operates to lower the tax liability on joint incomes.

George told reporters that an effort would be made to knock out the community property income system of filing returns.

Congressional experts estimated that $60,000,000 would be added

Burglary At Ideal Market

The arrest of James B. Green, 1422 South Grand avenue, recently for breaking into grocery stores in Sedalia, apparently has not solved the worries of the local police as well as grocery store owners.

The Ideal Market, Fifteenth street and Ingram avenue, was broken into early Monday morning by thieves who made away with a big haul of groceries.

A front window had been smashed by the thief to gain entrance to the store and he hauled away 23 pounds of coffee, 20 pounds of bacon, one 18 pound ham, a 9 pound ham, one ham hock, three boxes of soap, 12 cans of milk, 12 cans of salmon, two 10 pound sacks of sugar, six cans of pork and beans, six 1-pound packages of lard, one gallon of syrup.

The robbery is the largest to take place since the arrest of Greer on Sunday morning, September 14 when he was caught in the Deal Market, Sixteenth street and Missouri avenue.

Fear All France Be Occupied

BERN, Switzerland, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Authoritative sources declared here today that some elements in Vichy fear that all France may be occupied if shootings and sabotage attributed to Communist elements persist in the German-occupied zone.

Marshal Petain's appeal yesterday against saboteurs in the occupied area, these sources said, was important primarily as an appeal for French unity against the danger of grave new difficulties with the German army.

Petain, it was believed, hoped to put himself forward as a symbol of unity in order to keep France in her present status until the war is decided.

'Win Or Die' Is Slogan of Reds In Fierce Fight

Nazis Increase Their Pressure In Leningrad Area

MOSCOW, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The fiercest fighting on the whole Russian battlefield flamed toward a climax today around Leningrad where armament worker called upon the great port city's defenders to "win or die."

As in besieged Odessa to the south, Leningrad's defense ring of Red troops and militia called from the shops and factories were reported holding their attackers to a standstill close to the city limits.

Workers in the great Putilov armament plant, in an open letter to the city's fighting forces, appealed:

"Win or die—there is no other choice. Win or die: This is the law for the Soviet fighter; this is the slogan for the entire Soviet nation! Let us give our holy oath we will not lay down our arms until we bury all the Fascist beasts."

With Kiev fallen as the war entered its fourth month, Moscow tightened its own precautions behind its barrier of fighting men.

The capital city council prohibited the return of all who left the city since the war began. Those who do come back will not be given permits by militia nor issued food cards.

An early morning communique tersely acknowledged that Kiev, Russia's third city and administrative center of the Ukraine, was yielded to the Germans "after many days of fierce fighting."

Stubborn Rear-Guard Action

Stubborn rear-guard fighting was believed to have saved a large part of the city's defenders, who were reported falling back to the east to prepare for a German thrust at the industrial Donets Basin.

The withdrawal became imperative after the Germans swept the Dnieper to the north, crossed down the river's eastern bank and fought their way into the ring of fire about Kiev.

Balancing the Kiev set-back in some measure was a report that the Red army on the counter-offensive in the central sector had recaptured 32 villages and driven the Germans from a strong fortified line.

The midday communique re-

Three Ships Sunk By Italians At The Port Of Gibraltar

Hopeful of An Accord by U. S. And Japanese

Confidence From Japan Is Voiced For Agreement

By The Associated Press
Japan's Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye was reported to have sent a second message to President Roosevelt and Japanese newspapers voiced confidence that a settlement would be reached between Tokyo and Washington.

Shanghai sources said Konoye's new message contained counter-proposals to suggestions made by Mr. Roosevelt in reply to the Japanese premier's first message on August 28.

The Japan Chronicle of Kobe, controlled by the Japanese foreign office, said there was reason to hope that "even at this late hour a satisfactory agreement may be reached" between Japan and the United States as a result of conversations in Washington.

The newspaper said attempts to settle the Far East crisis amicably should be based on recognition of the fact that the United States, Britain and Japan were rivals in the Pacific.

If the United States and Britain were determined on preponderant influence in the western Pacific, the paper said, then this rivalry would mean relentless antagonism.

Well informed travelers arriving in Honolulu from Shanghai said that Japan was on the fence in the Russo-German conflict and that her final decision would depend on developments on the battlefield.

Japanese militarists, they said, were still firmly in the saddle in

Would Protect Interests

"But it so happens," it added, "that both the United States and Britain have for some time declared they do not desire hegemony but only seek to protect Far Eastern interests."

The attack apparently took the British by complete surprise, since Gibraltar harbor, protected by moles, nets, minefields and great guns high on the rock, had long been considered secure against close-in assault.

In the 93-day-old Russian campaign, the Germans reported that about 30 Soviet divisions—perhaps 450,000 troops—had been "annihilated" so far in a trap east of Kiev.

Four Red armies encircled there were reported struggling to blast their way out of the Nazi ring.

While the Germans asserted the beleaguered armies were tightly sealed, Moscow dispatches said they were seeking to fall back to Kharkov, in the heart of the Donets river industrial basin.

Meanwhile, war-like preparations in Bulgaria, ostensibly aimed

• by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WITH SECOND ARMY IN LOUISIANA—There is nothing basically wrong with the morale of this man's army. It is as patriotic, as courageous and as spirited as any army in U.S. history. Also, it is a lot better fit, better taken care of, equipped and trained than was the AEF when it went to France.

There is still a lot of griping among the selectees over the Service Extension Act. Most of them don't like it and make no bones about how they feel. But in frankly expressing their opinions they draw a sharp distinction between the desire to return to civilian life at the end of one year and the question of training a citizen army.

On the subject of the Extension Act the general feeling seems to be that as conditions may work out they will be called on to serve longer than those inducted this year or next. With typical American individualism they insist on everyone getting the same deal. They don't want to be the "goats." But at the same time they make it very clear that they approve of preparing for any eventuality, the defense program and aid to all enemies of Hitler.

Favor Compulsory Training

In talking the past week to scores of these citizen soldiers from every walk of life, every part of the country and in every branch of the army, there was never once a word or intimation of objection to the Selective Training Act itself, the defense program or the president's anti-axis policies.

These youths don't care for soldiering as a way of life; but they definitely do approve of the desirability of training an army big enough to defend their country. Many said they favored compulsory military training of one year duration between the ages of 18 and 21 as a permanent system. These youths also don't want to fight in a "foreign war"; but they are not isolationists. The America First Committee element draws no cheers from them. Very bitter opinions were voiced about Wheeler and Lindbergh, particularly the latter.

These youths want no part of a "foreign war," but they are prepared to fight at the drop of the hat if their country is in danger. And they believe that it is in danger. The Wheeler-Lindbergh thesis that the country need not worry about an axis attack they dismiss with a short, blunt word. In their training they have learned enough about the speed and scope of blitz warfare to know that the Atlantic and Pacific do not make us immune from foreign invasion. These boys have no illusions about modern warfare—and no politician or ex-hero is kidding them about it.

That's why they are for all the lend-lease aid necessary to lick Hitler in Europe if possible. They are red-hot Russian partisans and follow avidly what is transpiring on the Titanic Eastern front. Invariably they inquired about the chances of the Russians to "hold off" the Nazis.

Desertions Lowest In History

Certain isolationist statements that there will be wholesale desertions at the end of the one-year training period found absolutely no confirmation among these citizen soldiers in the field here. When asked about the report they laughed about it as a mischievous joke they had put over.

The desertion rate among the citizen soldiers is the lowest in the peacetime history of the U.S. Army. Even the AWOL rate is extraordinarily small.

At one time it was so infinitesimal in the 27th Division, the outfit reputed to have the lowest in morale in the 2nd Army, that a special inspector was sent from Washington by the War Department to investigate whether the situation was as good as reported. It was as good.

NOTE: The 2nd Army has a counter to "O.H.I.O." (Over the Hill in October) that sprang up among some outfits during the Extension Bill debate. It is "G.I.N."—Guard-house in November.

Amid Woods and Swamps

Proof of the sound patriotism and high morale of this man's army is strikingly demonstrated in the spirit displayed by the soldiers in the grueling war games being fought out here in the vast piney woods and swamp country of the Sabine and Red River basins. This is mean country, and the weather has been worse. It has been hot and steamy with frequent soaking showers. The woods are full of chiggers and the mosquitoes are as thick and persistent as flies around a sugar bowl. The maneuvers have been fast and furious in a combat situation basically one of a mobile armored force (2nd Army) against an enemy less mobile and armored but three times as large (3rd Army). From the zero hour movement has been continuous day and night, with night operations under strict black-out.

Also the 450,000 men engaged have been in the field in divisional and intra-army maneuvers for two months. They have been able to bathe infrequently, have had to wash their own clothes, to eat on the fly. Movies and recreation have been rare. Yet the boys entered into these games with all the zest and verve of a championship football game.

Has She Got A Friend?

Here is one instance of their spirit. The 85th Engineers was assigned the task of building a pontoon bridge across the Red river, a tricky, sandy-bottom stream with steep banks of vicious red clay, quick-sand traps and given to rising 2 feet in an hour. The massive 400-yard span of 25-ton pontoons was begun early in the morning under orders that it was to be completed by dark in order to enable several divisions of motorized artillery to cross during the night.

All during the day the engineers toiled in the steaming heat. At dusk, clay-caked, drenched and worn, the engineers triumphantly completed their mission. The bridge was ready.

A Signal Corps unit arrived and on the near bridgehead set up a radio communications point for one of the divisions moving up to cross over. As one of the radio operators was tinkering with his set, a jeep car with several grimy engineers skidded by and one of them yelled, "Getting anything?"

"Yep, she's coming through."

"Well!" was the grinning reply. "Ask her if she's got a friend."

That's the kind of morale this man's army has.

Field Notes

The 3rd Army craftily pulled a fast one on its rival. The Third's intelligence branch organized groups of local folks in the small towns behind the Second's lines to telephone information about its troop movements. . . . Major R. A. Griffin, public relations chief of the 2nd Army, is one newspaperman who has not let his military status warp his handling of the press. A Monterey, Calif., publisher, Griffin has made a big hit with the "war" correspondents by his unfailing cooperation. . . . Genial Captain Barney Oldfield, radio officer captured by the 3rd Army, patiently explains to every newcomer at headquarters that he is not the famed auto racer. . . . One thing the selectees miss sorely in the field is newspapers. They are avid readers, following war developments closely. Next to war news they want the "funnies." . . . Also the boys love mail. If you have a friend or relative in the service, write him as often as you can. Next to food mail is the soldier's chief delight.

• Why Not An American 'Olympics'?

There were no Olympic Games in 1940, because Finland, which was to have been host to these international athletic contests, was otherwise occupied. All of Europe is otherwise occupied today.

The suggestion is now made by Noel Meadow that a Pan American Youth Olympics be substituted; that the old Olympics have lost whatever meaning they may once have had, and that a new series of games should be instituted which will bring together the youth of North and South America in wholesome competition.

It is a suggestion worth discussing, and in all the many efforts to bring the Americas closer together this field has been largely neglected.

• After It's Too Late

Nazi authorities in conquered Holland are reported annoyed by the way in which Hollanders now stand on street corners, slowly and conspicuously eating oranges. Orange is the national color, and the name of the ruling house.

A Nazi radio broadcaster is reported protesting the custom as "hypocritical," saying they never were that patriotic before the German invasion.

Of course not. It is only when freedom has been taken away that people realize its sweetness.

Russians Face War Threat on Even Bigger Front

Japanese maneuvers in Manchukuo, Nippon's protests against floating mines in the Sea of Japan, and departure of Soviet embassy staff members from Tokyo are hints that conflict may develop on a new front for Russia. Maps show this horseshoe shaped Siberian front, if unbroken, would be 700 miles longer than Russo-German front in the west.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 28, 1941.

Golden Text: Isaiah 65:17. "Behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all" (1 Chron. 29:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The spiritual reality is the scientific fact in all things. The spiritual fact, repeated in the action of man, and the whole universe, is harmonious and is the ideal of Truth. . . . For right reasoning there should be but one fact before the thought, namely, spiritual existence" (pp 267,492).

Delegates Report On Encampment Held Sept. 14-19

Mrs. George Rippey and Mrs. F. M. Hatfield, of Sedalia, and Mrs. Frank Palmer, of Windsor, delegates to the seventy-fifth National G. A. R. Encampment held in Columbus, Ohio, from September 14 to September 19, returned home Friday evening. They are all members of the Charles Kooch circle No. 77 of Sedalia.

An interesting report of the encampment was given by the ladies who told of the magnificent parade led by the United States Marine Band and in which marched the old veterans as bombers roared in the skies above.

Ninety-three veterans were registered.

The conversation was presided over by William W. Nixon, commander-in-chief, with Lieutenant Governor Paul Herbert as general chairman.

Attended Dedication

Sunday afternoon the delegates from the Charles Kooch circle attended the dedication of the bronze tablet of Lincoln's Gettysburg address in the state capital at Columbus, the dedication of a sun dial in the capital grounds and the

THE WHYS AND WHEREFORES

... of the brewing industry's campaign in Missouri to "Clean Up or Close Up" undesirable retail beer outlets

"Sometimes it is difficult," admits a local law enforcement official, "for us to obtain evidence against the scattered few retail beer outlets that are guilty of flagrant law violations or other anti-social practices. We are too well known."

"But the field representatives of the Missouri Brewers' Association and Beer Distributors' Committee are unknown and 'business as usual,' good or bad, goes on when they enter a place. They know what practices are inimical to public welfare... and they know what constitutes actionable evidence. "Personally, I welcome this cooperation on the part of Missouri's socially conscious brewing industry. I am sure other local officials throughout Missouri feel the same way."

"I would like to add my appeal to that of the Committee for the cooperation of the public. It can help by reporting law violations and anti-social practices to local law enforcement officials or to the Committee. The public will find a growing vast majority of clean and wholesome retail beer outlets."

ed at Turkey or Susia, were emphasized by unconfirmed reports that King Boris III of Bulgaria was en route to a meeting with Adolf Hitler.

Well-informed sources in Ankara predicted that Turkey, guardian of the strategic Dardanelles, gateway between the Mediterranean and the Black sea, faced an imminent showdown.

In Berlin, the Wilhelmstrasse reported that Bulgaria had been "brought into a state of higher watchfulness," which, it was said, was not surprising in view of the reported landing of Russian parachutists on Bulgarian soil.

Speculation On King Boris
King Boris' reported visit to Hitler aroused speculation that Bulgaria, now almost completely mobilized, might be preparing to enter the field as an active ally of Germany.

The London radio, quoting unconfirmed Turkish advices, said Field Marshal Gen. Walther von Brauchitsch, commander in chief of the German army; Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, German naval chief, and Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop would attend the meeting.

King Boris' departure to confer with the fuhrer followed his inspection of Bulgarian troop maneuvers by the biggest army called to the colors in the nation's history.

Neutral observers interpreted Bulgaria's military preparations as part of a German plan to high-pressure Turkey. Britain's non-belligerent ally, into making concessions which would aid the Nazi cause in the middle east and Russia.

Acknowledge Fall of Kiev

On the Russian-German war front, the Red army tersely acknowledged the fall of Kiev, Ukraine capital and Russia's third greatest city, but declared that a Soviet counter-offensive on the central (Moscow) front had recaptured 23 villages and driven the Germans from a strongly fortified line.

The Russians said defenders of Leningrad and Odessa, siege-girt Black sea port, were inflicting enormous casualties on the Germans as the struggle entered its fourth month.

Leningrad's position apparently was growing more critical by the hour. Soviet dispatches admitted that Nazi dive-bombers were smashing at the old czarist capital and its 3,200,000 populace with "such ferocity it seems the earth itself will split."

Moreover, the Germans reported that Nazi shore batteries had frustrated an attempt by Russian warships to flee the silenced Kronstadt island naval base, 20 miles east of Leningrad.

Stuka dive-bombers were credited by the German command with scoring direct bomb hits on the 23,016-ton Soviet battleship October Revolution, the 8,800-ton cruiser Kirov, another cruiser, three destroyers and a gunboat in the waters off Kronstadt.

German warplanes were reported to have silenced Kronstadt's guns last Friday.

Hitler's high command asserted that German troops were tightening the trap on four Soviet armies east of Kiev, inflicting "heavy and bloody casualties" on Red forces desperately attempting to break out of the Nazi ring.

Sink Ships In Convoy

At sea, a special communique from the fuhrer's headquarters declared, German U-boats sank 13 heavily-laden ships totaling 82,500 tons and damaged another in an attack on two convoys and separate ships in the Atlantic.

"Three escorting vessels evaded the attack, leaving the convoy to its fate," the German high command asserted.

In the war in the air, the British reported that more than 600 RAF bombers and fighters attacked Germany and German-occupied countries in a 36-hour offensive over the weekend, blasting key targets along the channel coast from France to Norway and as far east as Berlin.

Authoritative British quarters said the Germans, having captured Kiev, were probably aiming their next thrust at Rostov, at the mouth of the River Don, a port for water-borne reinforcement of isolated Crimea and a gateway to the rich Caucasus oil fields.

The German high command asserted that Nazi columns knifing across the lower Ukraine had cut off the Crimea peninsula, thereby menacing Russia's big Sebastopol naval base.

The Nazi command made these Sunday announcements:

1. A German column reached the Sea of Azov, crossing the broad Dnieper river near Berislav, 35 miles from the river's mouth.

2. German assault troops captured the former Estonian islands of Oesel and Muhu, clearing sea lanes to Leningrad.

3. German soldiers encircling four Russian armies east of Kiev have captured 150,000 troops and much equipment.

For their part, the Russians said a large part of the force which defended Kiev for so many weeks was falling back to prepare defenses for Kharkov, principal city of the next apparent objective, the Donetz basin.

Beat Back Russian Ships
BERLIN, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Russian warships have been beaten back by German shore guns in an attempt to flee the Baltic waters off Leningrad, authorized German sources declared today.

Although this action was not mentioned by the high command, it reported heavy air blows on Russian sea forces in the Baltic and Black seas—including damage to a battleship and seven other warships apparently still standing by the besieged defenders of Leningrad.

The reported flight of Russian naval units was a sequel to German claims of having captured Oesel, fortified Russian island guarding the entrance to the Gulf of Finland, and to have silenced big guns of the Kronstadt island naval base near Leningrad, making the Finnish gulf perilous for the Red Baltic fleet.

Authorized sources said German batteries on the Baltic coast shelled a Russian cruiser and a destroyer at Kronstadt, forcing both quickly to cease fire and turn from their course.

The Luftwaffe, said the war bulletin from Adolf Hitler's headquarters, scored two bomb hits on the 23,016-ton Russian battleship Oktabrskaya-Revolyutsia (October Revolution), two on the 8,800-ton cruiser Kirov, four on another cruiser and also inflicted bomb damage on three destroyers, a mine-sweeper and a gunboat, all off Kronstadt.

Attack Central Sector
LONDON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The Berlin radio was heard tonight reporting that the Russian army was attacking in the central sector "to relieve encircled Soviet troops." The Russians were said to have suffered heavy losses in men and tanks.

Wants Change On Neutrality

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Secretary of State Hull told his press conference today that he had tried for some time to indicate that he believed the neutrality act should be changed.

He declined to predict, however, whether or when the measure would be repealed or revised. Hull reminded reporters that he and President Roosevelt had said at the time the neutrality law was enacted that it would be as likely to get this country into the war as to keep it out.

The secretary said the lend-lease act was based primarily on the doctrine of self defense and that it provided a way to go further as the necessities of defense increased.

In reply to a question whether another letter had been received by President Roosevelt from Premier Prince Konoze of Japan, the secretary said he had no information on this point.

Asked for comment on a reported Peruvian proposal to establish a zone of separation between that country and Ecuador, interested in seeing differences in Hull said the United States was South America composed.

Predicts U. S. Be In War In Year

LAWRENCE, Kas., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Henry A. Allen, former Kansas governor and senator, predicted today actual United States participation in the war within a year.

"Actually," he told a Kansas University convocation, "we are in the war up to our necks already. We can't back out now, nor do I hope that we will try to."

Allen, just back from a trip to England, said that country "is strangely grateful for what we have done, yet they expect the United States to enter the war."

Dies In Crash Of Pursuit Planes

HAMILTON FIELD, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Two army pursuit planes flying in formation collided in mid-air today, killing one pilot. The other parachuted safely. Both planes crashed on Tubbs Islands, a machine gun target range for Hamilton Field planes.

The shattered body of Second Lieut. William E. Schott, 22, Newkirk, Okla., was still in his wrecked plane.

Second Lieut. James B. Morehead, 25, Washington, Okla., was rescued from the mud, suffering only a possible broken wrist.

Lease-Lend Bill To Be Expedited

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt returned to Washington this morning from a week end at Hyde Park, N. Y., and immediately discussed with congressional leaders the possibilities of obtaining speedy congressional passage of a new $5,985,000,000 lend-lease appropriation and a price control bill.

The president was informed that the lease measure would be expedited but that it probably would not reach the house for two weeks because of a decision to add some additional appropriation items, largely for defense.

House Majority Leader McCormack, of Massachusetts, told reporters that "the necessity of early consideration and passage" of a price control measure was recognized at the conference. The legislation is before the house banking committee, where considerable opposition has appeared.

McCormack said there was no discussion at today's conference of revising the neutrality act.

Also attending the conference were Vice President Wallace; Speaker Rayburn; Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the house appropriation committee; Representative Woodrum (D-Va.) who has been piloting the lend-lease bill through the appropriation committee; Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relation committee, and Senator McKeller (D-Tenn.), ranking Democrat on the senate appropriations committee.

Attack Right To Keep Office

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Ray E. Watson's right to retain his office while he is in military service was brought under legal attack today as Delmar Petty of Joplin went to trial for a second time on a charge of first-degree murder in the night club slaying here February 22, 1940, of Miss Eula Gipson, a Joplin beauty shop operator.

In a motion to disqualify Acting Judge Dale Tourtelot of Joplin on the grounds that he is holding the office illegally, Russell Mallett, appearing as counsel for Petty, charged that Judge Watson has forfeited his office and that Petty cannot be legally tried in division No. 1 of circuit court until a new judge is elected or is appointed by the governor.

Judge Tourtelot promptly overruled the motion and Petty went to trial under protest.

Judge Watson is colonel and commanding officer of the 203rd Anti-Aircraft Regiment, Missouri National Guard, and was inducted into service under the national emergency a year ago this month. He has not been drawing his salary as judge, but is paid as a colonel in the army. Since his departure, attorneys of the Jasper county bar have been electing a special judge each term of court.

to federal revenues if the system was eliminated.

Talk of Joint Return
There also was talk of requiring all husbands and wives to file joint income tax returns. This proposal, recommended by the House Ways and Means committee during consideration of the recently-enacted bill but rejected by the House, is estimated to yield close to $300,000,000 a year.

Under that plan, a man with a $5,000 income and his wife with a $3,000 income would have to pay taxes on $8,000—taxes which would be substantially higher than if they each filed separate returns on their individual income.

Connally told reporters he would favor the joint return system if there was a choice between that and elimination of the existing community property system.

"If it is sound to disregard real legal ownership of income, as provided under the laws of community property states," he added, "then it is sound to require a single return from all husbands and wives in the rich states."

"It is not fair to single out eight relatively poor states and tax us unjustly and allow husbands and wives in rich states to divide their income by gift or otherwise. If one is to be taxed, let's tax them all."

Death Soon After Marriage

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Yesterday was Kay Weber's wedding day.

Today plans were being made for her funeral.

This tragic shift from happiness to sorrow came last night less than nine hours after her marriage. Police Lieut. Joseph Murrin said she was shot to death in her honeymoon apartment by a disappointed suitor who took his own life.

Murrin related these events leading up to the tragedy:

Two men—Lee Sherman, 24, and Ronald Toft, 35, were rivals for the affections of the 26-year-old divorcee, Sherman won yesterday when he and Mrs. Weber drove to Dubuque, Ia., where they were married.

When they returned to Sherman's home they learned that Toft tried to asphyxiate himself at the bride's basement apartment.

The newlyweds agreed to see the disappointed man at the apartment where Toft, after looking at the marriage license, congratulated the couple, smiled and left.

Fifteen minutes later Mrs. Sherman walked into the dining room. A shot rang out and she fell to the floor, a fatal bullet wound in her head.

Outside in an areaway near a window into the dining room they found the body of Toft. A .22 caliber rifle lay nearby.

Hopeful of An Accord by U. S. And Japanese

Tokyo despite Emperor Hirohito's recent action in taking over control of the army in the homeland.

In the Sino-Japanese war, now in its fifth year, a Chinese army spokesman said the Japanese had suffered fully 15,000 casualties in the big Japanese offensive launched in northern Hunan province last Wednesday.

Usually reliable sources in Manila said Japan had sent at least 1,000,000 troops to Manchukuo and Korea in recent weeks and that events within Japan pointed unmistakably toward a move against Russia if Germany's invasion of the U.S.S.R. continued successfully.

Virtually all horses in Japan were reported to have been shipped to Manchukuo, which borders Soviet Siberia, indicating the Japanese army meant to be ready for possible bad weather operations.

Back To Work In Captive Mines

By The Associated Press

Back-to-work whistles blew today for 44,000 striking employees of captive mines, and officers of most of the unions involved in a Pennsylvania anthracite strike asked their followers to return to their jobs.

The employees of captive mines—pits in Pennsylvania, west Virginia and Kentucky supplying fuel for major steel companies—agreed to resume work on the basis of recommendations by the National Defense Mediation Board. The mines have been idle a week.

The controversy arose over the demand of the United Mine Workers for a union shop contract in the captive pits.

Officers of 38 of 42 UMWA locals in District Seven, where 20,000 hard coal diggers have been idle almost two weeks in protest against increased union dues and assessments, voted yesterday (Sunday) to return to work and submit their grievances to a commission to be named by International President John L. Lewis.

The officers voted 126 to 1 in favor of the proposal and arranged to ask their local memberships to ratify the action today.

Banquet Given By Supervisors

club, presented Mr. Judd with a beautiful gold wrist watch. Mr. Pringle spoke a few words concerning the occasion, mentioning the fact it was to him a great honor and a privilege to speak of a man with whom he had worked with for many years, a man who was indeed a master of his trade, that of patternmaking, one who will go down in history as one who was recognized on the Missouri Pacific, as well as other railroads, as a superior craftsman. A man who stayed, so to speak, back in the trenches, but his judgment and knowledge came forth in an outstanding manner. Mr. Judd was one who was always ready to give advice and encouragement to others, especially to those who were just starting out in the railroad business. He was one who will fight for right and justice and the Missouri Pacific is losing a man whose place will be hard to fill.

Honored in Talks

Rev. Kokendoff spoke relative to the life of Mr. Judd, stating he had known him for many years and had worked with him as a member of the Christian church in Sedalia since the year of 1912. That he had known Mr. Judd as a man who was loyal and true to his church, as well as to the large organization with whom he worked, the Missouri Pacific railroad, and these were some of the things that stood out in his life as a Christian. Rev. Kokendoff stated this dinner, this evening, was indeed a great tribute to a man who has given 50 years of his life in the wonderful industry of the railroads, and may it be remembered by all present in the years to come.

G. T. Callender, superintendent of shops, in presenting Mr. Judd with a Honorary Membership in the Supervisors Club, mentioned the fact that it also was indeed a great honor to have the opportunity to say a few words in behalf of Mr. Judd. He reviewed the organizing of the Supervisors Club and read a list of the retired members of the club to which it was a pleasure and also a sad occasion to add to the list the name of Mr. Judd, whom all liked and whom all would miss in the shops as well as over the entire railroad.

Mr. Callender also mentioned that all patterns for castings, whether steel or cast iron, now in use of the Missouri Pacific, as well as other railroads, first went through the hands of Mr. Judd, who gave the final say before the castings were manufactured. Mr. Judd was a great fellow and "words cannot express my feelings toward Mr. Judd," said Mr. Callender.

Mr. Judd also had a safety record that was known of all over the Missouri Pacific in that he had no injury in his department in the 29 years service with the railroad. Since 1933 he had charge of the cabinet and upholster shop in addition to the pattern shop.

In closing Mr. Callender gave a brief history of Mr. Judd who was born in Louisville, Ky., March 27, 1877. Started with the Illinois Central in April 1891 as a messenger and clerk. Patternmaker apprentice and patternmaker with the Illinois Central until August, 1912. Came to the Missouri Pacific as patternmaker foreman in August 1912. Retired July 20th, 1941. Had 21 years with the Illinois Central and 29 years with the Missouri Pacific.

Letters Congratulate

Several letters of congratulations were received from Missouri Pacific officials who stated because of business were unable to attend the banquet, but expressed their appreciation to Mr. Judd for his faithful service to the railroad. As a surprise to those present, President Hansman called upon the supervisors in the car department with H. M. Kelly, general foreman, to sing the song "My Wild Irish Rose." Next he called upon the supervisors in the locomotive department with S. O. Rentschler, general foreman, to sing the same song. It would be hard to say what group sang the best, as the loud applause after the singing was great, showing the singing was enjoyed by all, even those who took part.

Mr. Hansman introduced the new members of the club who were recently appointed to positions of supervisors, who were present with their wives. P. G. Berthouex, B. J. Fredricks, E. A.

Bride From the Sky

By HELEN WILSHIMER

Copyright, 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Angered by newspaper stories romantically linking aviator Sandy Ammerman with heiress Peg Gordon, Judy Allen decides her love for Sandy, who has courted her persistently, is just infatuation. Determining to put him out of her mind, she agrees to marry Philip Rogers, which she is an associate editor. Philip can give her the peace, comfort, and security Sandy cannot offer unless he can interest her in a parachute. He has invented, Judy is also upset by the duplicity of her secretary, Sara Fuller, who signed her own name to one of Judy's stories in Judy's absence.

OFF FOR THE WEDDING

CHAPTER XII

PHILIP'S news was simple enough. It stated that promotion on the forthcoming magazine had been sent out that day. Much of the space was given to the article which carried Sara's signature.

"Never mind," Judy answered. "She's worried enough about it. If the laurels fit, let her keep them."

"That aunt of hers would kick her off the staff in 20 seconds if she knew that her niece was double-crossing you," the attorney's voice said. "I'll guarantee it won't happen again."

"Let's skip it," Judy said, never suspecting that less than one month later she would wish she had taken the matter straight to the editor-in-chief. "I'll not be away again. It's a lot of anxiety over."

"—over property rights! Anyway, I'll be giving special attention to yours in a few more weeks."

He would be a pillar, a good-looking pillar, against which to lean.

"I sent out our announcements today," she said. Just as she might have said, "I ate breakfast," or "I broke my wrist watch."

There was no need to explain that Sandy had come to her office to make peace, since neither her home telephone nor doorbell answered to him. No need to tell of the young aviator's refusal to believe of her engagement. "You want Philip Rogers as much as I want a nice, quiet life," he had said. "Never fear, you're my girl!"

Nor was there time to explain that Sandy had calmly taken her to task because she had not used pictures of Peg in an earlier layout.

"This is a business matter, Judy," he had said. "We'll discuss our romance tomorrow—tonight—whenever you say. But why did you pick seven others for the pictures and omit Peg?"

"How does she know I did it? And even so, I merely figured on a good layout." Her eyes were snapping with fire. "Why didn't you plead for her in time? It's old stuff now—good for the morgue. You've known her since mudpie days!"

"Listen, Judy, just because you sit at a desk and dole out picture space or the fashion horoscope doesn't mean you can't make a mistake. You're not omnipotent, my jelly puff, and the girl needs a break to recapture her crown. I'm for her. And I've merely met her casually before. Now I know her."

Judy ended the conversation there. Two columnists had said practically the same thing. One had suggested an engagement and had hinted at a broken-hearted career girl.

DIMLY now she heard Phil's glad acknowledgment of the announcement. Heard herself explaining that she had permission to leave for her week's vacation any time she chose. She drew pictures of hearts on her writing pad and twined them together as she continued the conversation. Unconsciously she wrote her name on one, Sandy's on the other.

It would be strange to spend seven carefree days with Phil. Phil, who, for all his rugged strength, probably wore pale green pajamas, gold-embroidered in his monogram.

The office staff was enthusiastic when it heard of the approaching marriage. Judy was presented with a silver coffee service by the editorial force and enough hats and frocks and suits by wholesale houses and designers who liked her to take her either to the Bahamas or Iceland.

Only Sara seemed displeased. "Is it because you're holding my job for me?" Judy asked the managing editor, Miss Barnard.

"Does Sara object?" Miss Barnard's hair was maturely white and her face unlined and lovely. She laughed until the white curls bobbed.

"Darling, never give up your job! You don't know when you'll need it. Philip likes you as a careerist. He can speak of you as a personality outside your home. Inside the walls just smile and agree. Oh, yes, never forget to tell him he's wonderful, child. In time he'll believe it. Never forget a man likes a pillow waiting for his head when the world trips him up."

Judy spoke slowly, her eyes laughing uncertainly. "You mean if I'm a yes person he'll never take his secretary to dinner? To lunch, yes, if he has to talk business, but to dinner, never!"

The older woman's eyes were soft with mirth. "Just once in a while you have to say no, so he won't catch on to the fact that you are good upholding for his ego. Remember I'm talking of Peter whom I married and Philip whom you're going to marry. This doesn't apply to people like—like—say that nice young Sandy who adores airplanes."

UNTIL half an hour before train time the night she left for her home and her wedding at Belmont, N. Y., Judy waited for Sandy to call.

Finally she told Phil she was ready. Her apartment was strangely empty. Her books, lamps, vases, rugs, the gay china and colorful linens were packed and stored in the old house's basement, waiting for her need of them. The furniture would be moved out, too, tomorrow when the packers returned. That would be sold.

For one nostalgic moment, she wished she might keep the deep chair in which Sandy had sat so many times, freighted on his face, long legs crossed.

Sandy had not called to wish her luck and say goodbye. Maybe two whose paths had run so close together for so long could never quite know separate paths again. Sandy didn't care. And why should he? She had refused him and he had shown definite preference for another girl even before that time. When there was an ending to anything in life it was best to walk swiftly and never look behind.

Phil was watching her. Meeting his eyes she recalled that he, too, had lounged in the chair. Perhaps he thought the memories were entirely his.

She and Phil were to occupy his apartment when the honeymoon was over. It was a man's apartment, attested to by the great brown chairs and divans, the fireplace that held two mammoth logs, the brass and copper that made the lamp-holders and the candle-holders, the brass service trays large as table tops, that were arranged along the walls.

Judy had not asked herself if she would be happy there. It was enough to know that she would be safe, protected, not answering vagabond calls to go to eat or see a show, long after midnight, or better still, wondering why the calls didn't come.

She and Phil were half-way down the stairs when the bell began to chime. She looked at Phil questioningly, hopefully.

Jean Charcot Fostered Science of Neurology

NEUROLOGY before the time of Jean-Martin Charcot (1825-1893) was practically unexplored by medical science. Next to nothing was known of the relationship between certain diseases of the brain, spinal cord and nerves, on one hand, and the signs and symptoms to which they gave rise, on the other.

Charcot, who was honored philatelically in the 1938 stamp above, linked up the two. He traced the causes of paralysis. He interpreted various nerve reflexes and showed how body functions were controlled by well-defined brain areas.

He was born in Paris, one of four sons of a coach builder. A diligent scholar, his father urged him to study medicine. Too sensitive and nervous to study surgery, too fond of animals for vivisection, he did not find himself until he began to specialize in diseases of the nervous system.

Dodgers Lead The Cardinals By But Single Game Today

Red Birds Knock Off Cubs Twice To Hit Near Top

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
This is "if" week in baseball. The little word looms larger and larger as the big leagues start their final week and the Brooklyn Dodgers still lead the St. Louis Cardinals by the skinny edge of one game in this nerve-wrecking National League pennant chase.

The Dodgers have only five games left to play after their unexpected split with the Phillies in yesterday's twin bill, and the Cards still have six to go after knocking off the Cubs twice. The "if" is riding on every pitch down.

At this moment, here's the picture:

Club	Won	Lost
Brooklyn	96	53
St. Louis	94	53

Here is how the little "if" gets bigger and bigger the rest of the way home:

If the Dodgers win only one of their five games, the Cards have to break at least even in their six to grab the flag.

If Brooklyn takes two, the Cards must click in four out of six.

If dem bums win three, the Cards have to take five.

If the gallants of the Gowanus grab four and lose only one, the Gas Housers need to sweep six.

If Brooklyn goes through without a loss—well, that's all brother.

Saturday Brooklyn downed the Phillies twice and the cubs clouted the Cards once, to leave St. Louis two games out. It looked like the honeymoon was over for the westerners.

But yesterday the paintin', Phils refused to paint in the nightcap. The Dodgers took the opener, 8-3, behind the five-hit elbowing of Johnny Allen, the fugitive from the American League, as a crowd of 35,909, a National League high in the Quaker City, looked on. In the second game, Luke Hamlin brought his boom-boom ball along and served it up to Danny Litwhiler right in the first inning with the bases loaded. The last seen of the apple, it was riding in among the paying customers—and Phillies were scampering around the bases like the horses on a merry-go-round. From there, the Phils coasted home, 6-3.

Red Birds Win Two

Meanwhile, the Cards won their opener the hard way, 6-5. The surprise-package rookie, Stan Musial, turned in a snappy base-running job in the ninth to score the game-wrecker. He came home plate unprotected to make a Catcher Clyde McCullough left home plate unprotected to make a play at first. Young Howie Pollet took complete charge of the nightcap by tossing an eight-hitter and manning seven for a 7-0 St. Louis win.

The cards rest today before opening at Pittsburgh. The Dodgers tangle with the Phils in a single game today and take tomorrow off.

On the rest of the National League Sunday card, the Cincinnati Reds and the Giants did the winning. Elmer the Great Riddle chalked up his No. 18 for the season with a six-hit 2-0 whitewash job against the Pirates for the Reds' eighth straight win, their longest victory string of the season.

The Giants jolted the Boston (not-so) Brave twice, 4-0 and 15-4. Harry Feldman's nine-hit hurling took the opener and a 20-hit attack all but chased the Bostons out of the ball park in the afterpiece.

Mickey Harris' six-hit hurling and a set of three homers gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-1 win over the Yankees. That clinched second place in the American League for Sox.

The Washington senators took a sole lease on the dizzy heights of sixth place by flailing the Philadelphia Athletics twice — 6-5 with a two-run rally in the ninth and 6-2 behind Early Wynn's eight-hit fast-balling in the second game.

St. Louis and the Indians traded shutouts, Cleveland grabbing the opener, 14-0, as Lefty Al Smith served a five-hitter, and the Brownies clicking in the second act, 3-0, as Denny Galehouse muffled his old mates with two safeties.

Tommy Bridges led the Detroit Tigers to a 6-3 win over the Chicago White Sox in their first game, but the second ended in a 14-inning 1-all deadlock when Schoelboy Rowe and Dunc Rigney hooked up in a thrilling battle. The tie will be played off today.

With nights getting longer, look at the bright side! More raiding over there—more reading over here.

All-Stars Win 16-13 Over Merchants

Earl 'Potts' Evans Only 'Old Timer' To Show Up For Game

Sunday afternoon on the Sedalia Merchants bowed to the Earl "Potts" Evans All-Stars by a score of 16 to 13 in a game which the players presented everything but a triple play. From the first inning until the last the game was an up-and-down affair but interesting to watch.

A number of fans were disappointed with the failure to show of Leroy "Dutch" Kirchoffer and Elmer Dillard, who according to Manager Evans had promised to play. But to overshadow their absence "Potts" Evans played the entire nine innings and he is still as good as ever, in handling the old ball at first base.

From the first pitched ball the starting pitchers were hit hard. Johnny Thomas for the Merchants being set to the showers in the seventh to be relieved by Manager Harry Light, who in turn was relieved by Glenn Salmons, brother of "Woody" Salmons, catcher for the All-Stars. Ernie "Lefty" Carpenter was hit all over the park but remained in the box until the last inning was completed.

Jimmy Taylor, Russell Overfelt and Swisher led the Merchants batting each securing four hits, with Overfelt's going for four out of five trips to the plate and each hit being for extra bases.

"Woody" Salmons and Gene Horner led the All-Stars in hitting, each getting three hits for six trips to the plate. Paul Evans hit a long drive which bounced around in the corner of the right-centerfield fence and he circled the bases for a home run inside the ball park.

George Bennington, Roscoe "Honk Honk" Slaton, Paul Evans, "Woody" Salmons and Ernie "Lefty" Carpenter all played professional baseball this summer down at Natchez, Mississippi, gave the background for the All-Stars, while John Knoop, Yessen, Horner and Potts Evans completed the lineup.

Next Sunday the Merchants play at Mayview, Mo.
